

Joanne Feldman

Mediation experience

In 2006 Joanne qualified as a Family Mediator and became accredited by The Solicitors Regulation Authority in 2009.

Joanne has carried out a number of mediations in many different family disputes and has successfully assisted highly-conflictual separating and divorcing couples achieve financial settlements and improve communication.

She has found the mediation setting ideal for couples considering a pre-nuptial agreement and has been pro-active in helping couples understand the huge benefit of entering into such.

She is geared towards encouraging a constructive and non-confrontational outcome that benefits the whole family unit. She firmly believes that litigation is the worst form of investment.

Joanne is a member of The Family Mediators Association and successfully completed the Direct Consultation with Children Training course in 2008.

Professional experience

Joanne is currently a Senior Family Solicitor and Head of the Family Department at Mason and Co. situated in Altrincham Cheshire.

Her specialist areas of practise include: Separation, Divorce, Financial Settlements; Co-habitation, Civil Partnerships; Pre-nuptial Agreements; Child Contact and Residence cases.

In 1990 she led a child-centred Satanic abuse trial against Rochdale MBC which attracted nationwide media attention

In 2003 she gained a Counselling qualification at Salford University and commenced her mediation training with ADR (Alternative Dispute Resolution) in 2006.

Other information

Joanne was published in the April 2000 edition of THE LAWYER magazine where she was described by the Daily Mail as “one of the country’s most successful lawyers”.